Dear Mompreneur,

YOU ARE AMAZING MOM!

Motherhood is hard and we all know it. It's scary, chaotic and overwhelming. We truly believe it is the hardest job we will ever have. The unfortunate thing about it is there's no one to tell you when you're doing great or offer a little encouragement when you need it. It's not like a job in an office where we have a boss telling us where we are successful and where we need to work a little harder.

But, we see you.

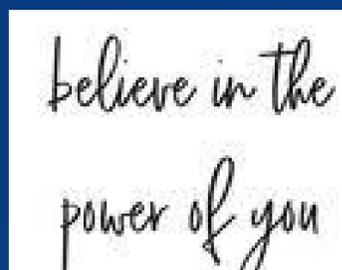

We see the sacrifices you make daily for your family. The way you are constantly trying to balance everything – Kids, Marriage, Work, friends and family. The sleepless nights, the laundry, the cleaning, the cooking go unnoticed. Your kids might just be too young to understand.

Perhaps the biggest thing we need to say to you is we Admire You. We marvel at the way you care for your family. You are raising the most wonderful, strong, compassionate little people. We are in awe of the way you handle the bad days with grace and your ability to embrace the imperfection of raising kids. Most of all, we appreciate your encouragement and words of wisdom more than you know. You are a wonderful Mother and a remarkable woman. Being a mom is the hardest job in the world and we just want you to know that you are rocking it being in this whole motherhood. You inspire us to be the best mom we can be.

You can exhibit your skills and earn!
